

Call For Special Sessions

Prospective organizers of Special Sessions for IMTC 2016 are invited to submit their proposals by August 10, 2015. Please send an email to the Special Sessions Chair, Ruqiang Yan, ruqiang@seu.edu.cn. The Special Session proposal should include the title of the special session, a short presentation and motivation of the significance of the Special Session topic. Special Sessions should address a clear and specific topic relevant to the Conference scope. Special Session organizers are solicited to invite one author submitting an extended paper. This manuscript will undergo the regular review process but if accepted it will be given a double slot for oral presentation.

Each proposal will be carefully evaluated at the time it is received on the basis of its pertinence to the scope of the Conference and the scientific level. Once accepted, it will immediately be announced on the Conference website, and the session organizer will be welcome to promote it.

All manuscripts submitted to Special Sessions will undergo the regular revision procedure. The authors submitting papers will have the Special Session as a topic option in EDAS.

Depending on the number of contributions, Special Sessions will be organized within a track of both oral and poster sessions (in this latter case without extended presentation). Once the papers are accepted, the Special Session organizer will interact with the Conference organizers to put the session together.
